ISA/IEC 62443 Cybersecurity Fundamentals Specialist Sample Questions (Q42-Q47):

NEW QUESTION # 42

What is the definition of "defense in depth" when referring to cybersecurity?

- A. Aligning all resources to provide a broad technical gauntlet
- B. Using countermeasures that have intrinsic technical depth
- C. Requiring a minimum distance requirement between security assets
- D. Applying multiple countermeasures in a layered or stepwise manner

Answer: D

Explanation:

"Defense in Depth" is a foundational principle in ISA/IEC 62443, defined as:

"The application of multiple security countermeasures in a layered (stepwise) fashion to protect assets." (ISA/IEC 62443-1-1, Clause 3.2.65) The objective is to reduce the probability that a single point of failure or vulnerability can be exploited to compromise the system. Layers may include physical security, network segmentation, authentication, intrusion detection, and endpoint protection. From ISA/IEC 62443-3-3:

"Defense in depth should be employed to provide redundancy in security mechanisms. Each layer increases the security of the system and mitigates different types of threats." Incorrect Options:

A and B - Misinterpret the concept as technical complexity, rather than layered protection.

C - Refers to physical spacing, not a cybersecurity strategy.

NEW QUESTION # 43

Who must be included in a training and security awareness program?

Available Choices (select all choices that are correct)

- A. Vendors and suppliers
- B. Temporary staff
- C. All personnel
- D. Employees

Answer: C

Explanation:

Modbus over Ethernet, also known as Modbus/TCP, is a protocol that encapsulates the Modbus/RTU data string inside the data section of the TCP frame. It then sets up a client/server exchange between nodes, using TCP/IP addressing to establish connections¹. This makes it easy to manage in a firewall, because the firewall can filter the traffic based on the source and destination IP addresses and the TCP port number. The default TCP port for Modbus/TCP is 502, but it can be changed if needed.

Modbus/TCP does not use any other ports or protocols, so the firewall rules can be simple and specific. References:

NEW QUESTION # 44

If an industrial control system experiences frequent unexpected shutdowns causing downtime, which SP Element activities should be reviewed to improve system availability?

- A. SP Element 7 - Logging and event reporting
- B. SP Element 2 - Change control
- C. SP Element 8 - Backup restoration
- D. SP Element 1 - Supply chain security

Answer: C

Explanation:

Frequent unexpected shutdowns relate directly to system availability and recoverability. According to ISA/IEC 62443-2-1, SP Element 8 focuses on:

Backup procedures

Restoration processes

Business continuity in response to disruptions

"SP Element 8 addresses recovery and continuity controls such as backups, restoration testing, and fallback procedures that ensure timely recovery from outages or system failures."

- ISA/IEC 62443-2-1:2010, Clause 4.3.4 - SP Element 8

While SP Element 2 and 7 are also important, Element 8 is most directly relevant for ensuring rapid restoration of service after unexpected shutdowns.

- B. Fewer personnel with system knowledge having access to IACS
- C. Knowledge of exploits and tools readily available on the Internet
- D. The move away from commercial off the shelf (COTS) systems, protocols, and networks

Answer: D

NEW QUESTION # 46

Which of the following is an element of monitoring and improving a CSMS?

Available Choices (select all choices that are correct)

- A. Significant changes in identified risk round in periodic reassessments
- B. Review of system logs and other key data files
- C. Restricted access to the industrial control system to an as-needed basis
- D. Increase in staff training and security awareness
