Nutanix Certified Associate v6.10 Sample Questions (Q35-Q40):

NEW QUESTION # 35

An administrator would like to configure a cluster to perform an LCM inventory automatically. At what frequency will the inventory run by default?

- A. Every 4 hours
- B. Every 8 hours
- C. Every 12 hours
- D. Every 24 hours

Answer: D

Explanation:

The correct answer is D. Every 24 hours.

In Nutanix Life Cycle Manager (LCM), when the LCM Auto Inventory feature is enabled, the system performs automatic inventory scans of the cluster's hardware and software components. By default, this auto-inventory runs every 24 hours to keep track of firmware, software versions, and available updates.

Clarifications:

- * The frequency is not user-configurable from the Prism UI.
- * It ensures accurate detection of upgrade eligibility and component compliance.
- * The admin can also run an inventory manually at any time.

Prism UI Navigation Path:

Settings > LCM > Auto Inventory (toggle enabled)

Official Reference:

- * Nutanix LCM Guide - Auto Inventory Section
- * Excerpt: "When Auto Inventory is enabled, LCM automatically performs inventory every 24 hours."

- A. Ncli
- B. acli
- C. Move
- D. Flow

Answer: D

NEW QUESTION # 39

An administrator receives the alert:
What is the most likely cause?

- A. This node in the cluster is already in maintenance mode.
- B. Another node in this cluster is already in maintenance mode.
- C. Other nodes in the cluster may not have enough resource available.
- D. This node in the cluster may not have enough resources available.

Answer: C

Explanation:

When a Nutanix cluster alert occurs, indicating maintenance mode issues, the most likely cause is that another node in the cluster is already in maintenance mode. Nutanix clusters enforce restrictions to prevent more than one node from entering maintenance mode simultaneously. This ensures the cluster can maintain resiliency and availability, adhering to the redundancy factor (RF) policy.

If another node is already in maintenance mode, the cluster cannot afford to have additional nodes enter maintenance without compromising data and service availability.
