Microsoft GitHub Actions Sample Questions (Q22-Q27):

NEW QUESTION # 22

Which of the following scenarios would require the use of self-hosted runners instead of GitHub-hosted runners?

- A. running more than the three concurrent workflows supported by GitHub-hosted runners
- B. exceeding 50,000 monthly minutes of build time
- C. using specialized hardware configurations required for workflows
- D. performing builds on macOS
- E. using Docker containers as part of the workflow

Answer: A,C

Explanation:

GitHub-hosted runners have a limit on the number of concurrent workflows (typically 20 for free-tier accounts and 5 for enterprise). If your organization needs to run more workflows simultaneously, you would need to use self-hosted runners to increase the available concurrency. Self-hosted runners allow you to configure specialized hardware or software setups that are necessary for certain workflows. GitHub-hosted runners may not have access to custom hardware configurations like GPUs or other specialized resources, so self-hosted runners are required in such cases.

NEW QUESTION # 23

As a developer, you are optimizing a GitHub workflow that uses and produces many different files. You need to determine when to use caching versus workflow artifacts. Which two statements are true? (Choose two.)

- A. Use artifacts to access the GitHub Package Registry and download a package for a workflow
- B. Use caching when reusing files that change rarely between jobs or workflow runs.
- C. Use artifacts when referencing files produced by a job after a workflow has ended.
- D. Use caching to store cache entries for up to 30 days between accesses.

Answer: B,C

Explanation:

Caching is ideal for files that change rarely, such as dependencies or build outputs, as it speeds up subsequent workflow runs by reusing previously cached files instead of re-downloading or rebuilding them.

Artifacts are used for persisting files produced during a job that need to be used in later jobs or after the workflow has ended, allowing them to be downloaded or referenced later.

NEW QUESTION # 24

Which configuration lines correctly set the workflow name in a GitHub Actions workflow file? (Choose 2)

- A. run-name: release-flow-42
- B. name: ${{ 'release-flow-42' }}
- C. name: ${{ 'release-flow-42' }}
- D. name: release-flow-42

Answer: C,D

Explanation:

The correct options are name: release-flow-42 and name: ${{ 'release-flow-42' }}. Both set the workflow name that appears in the Actions interface and on the workflow page.

The plain static name key with a simple string sets the workflow name clearly and predictably. It is the most straightforward way to define the workflow title.

The expression form with a single quoted string evaluates to the same literal value. GitHub Actions accepts a string result for the workflow name, so this produces a valid name while keeping consistency with other places where expressions are used.

NEW QUESTION # 25

GitHub-hosted runners support which capabilities? (Each correct answer presents a complete solution. Choose two.)

- A. automatic patching of both the runner and the underlying OS
- B. requiring a payment mechanism (e.g., credit card) to use for private repositories
- C. support for a variety of Linux variations including CentOS, Fedora, and Debian
- D. support for Linux, Windows, and macOS
- E. automatic file-system caching between workflow runs

Answer: A,D

Explanation:

[A, not B] Each GitHub-hosted runner is a new virtual machine (VM) hosted by GitHub with the runner application and other tools preinstalled, and is available with Ubuntu Linux, Windows, or macOS operating systems.

[E] When you use a GitHub-hosted runner, machine maintenance and upgrades are taken care of for you.

NEW QUESTION # 26

Based on the YAML below, which two statements are correct? (Choose two.)

```
jobs:
  build:
    runs-on: ubuntu-latest
    steps:
      - uses: actions/checkout@v2
      - uses: actions/setup-node@v1
        with:
          node-version: 12
      - run: npm ci
      - run: npm test

  publish-npm:
    needs: build
    runs-on: ubuntu-latest
    steps:
      - uses: actions/checkout@v2
      - uses: actions/setup-node@v1
        with:
          node-version: 12
      - run: npm ci
      - uses: JS-DevTools/npm-publish@v1
        with:
          token: ${ secrets.NPM_TOKEN }

- A. This workflow file is using a matrix strategy.
- B. The workflow job publish-npm will only run after the build job passes.
- C. This workflow will publish a package to an npm registry.
- D. This workflow will publish a package to GitHub Packages.

Answer: B,C

Explanation:

The publish-npm.job includes the JS-DevTools/npm-publish action, which is used to publish an npm package to an npm registry. The publish-npm.job has the needs: build directive, meaning it will only run after the build job successfully completes.
