Oracle Order Management Cloud Order to Cash 2025 Implementation Professional Sample Questions (Q93-Q98):

NEW QUESTION # 93

A revision was made to an existing sales order in Order Management Cloud. But it did not trigger a change order. Identify the attribute that was modified during the revision of the sales order.

- A. Unit Selling Price
- B. Customer PO
- C. Ordered UOM
- D. Requested Ship Date
- E. Ordered Quantity

Answer: B

NEW QUESTION # 94

Your company moves material between warehouses within the enterprise. The warehouse user creates a Transfer Order document to perform these material transfers. To fulfill demands for customer Sales Orders, the warehouse user needs visibility of both the Transfer Orders and the Sales Orders.

What configuration is required?

- A. Create a Pick wave release rule.
- B. Create a Release Sequence rule.
- C. Create a Pick slip grouping rule.
- D. Update the Supply Order defaulting and enrichment rule.
- E. Update the Manage Supply executing document creation rule.

Answer: E

Explanation:

The Manage Supply executing document creation rule is the configuration that is required to enable the warehouse user to have visibility of both the Transfer Orders and the Sales Orders. This rule determines the type of supply order that is created for each demand line, such as a transfer order, a purchase order, or a work order. You can update this rule to specify the conditions and actions for creating transfer orders for internal material transfers between warehouses¹. You can also use this rule to combine visibility of internal and external orders by sending transfer orders to Oracle Order Management Cloud².

NEW QUESTION # 95

A company manufactures and ships industrial water filters from its only factory unit in India.

Which four types of lead time can the company use to create promising rules in lead-time promising mode?

- A. Transit lead time
- B. Supplier lead time
- C. Total lead time
- D. Cumulative total lead time
- E. User-defined lead time
- F. Processing lead time
- G. Cumulative manufacturing lead time

Answer: A,E,F,G

Explanation:

Oracle Order Management Cloud Order to Cash supports four types of lead time that can be used to create promising rules in leadtime promising model. These are:

- * Transit lead time: The time required to ship the item from the source location to the destination location.
- * Processing lead time: The time required to process the item at the source location before shipping it.
- * User-defined lead time: The time that you can define for any specific purpose, such as quality inspection, packaging, or customs clearance.
- * Cumulative manufacturing lead time: The total time required to manufacture the item from its raw materials or components.

4. Execute collection for order management.
- D. 1. Define item organization in the product model.
2. Load organization and calendar data.
3. Define the external source system as a collection source.
4. Execute collection for order management.

Answer: B

NEW QUESTION # 97

You have a requirement to configure a different user interface (UI) depending on the user accessing it.

For one hosting application, you want a full-featured interface where users can select all options. These users have product knowledge and, therefore, do not need to be guided as much.

For the other hosting application, you want a more guided interface that takes the users through each step and hides some of the product details that may be confusing.

How can you do this?

- A. By building a Configurator rule that shows different options based on the application that is accessing
- B. By doing nothing. You cannot have more than one UI based on different applications that are accessing it. All users will have to use the more simplified method.
- C. By using Dynamic Tree Navigation and making the first question that users are prompted with to be related to the interface that they want to use
- D. By building this using different languages; for example, you can have the first hosting application to provide access by using American English and the second hosting application to provide access by using British English
- E. By building two separate user interfaces and for each UI and selecting the corresponding application under Applicability Parameters in the user interface setup

Answer: E

Explanation:

By building two separate user interfaces and for each UI and selecting the corresponding application under Applicability Parameters in the user interface setup.

This answer is correct because it allows you to create different user interfaces for different hosting applications, and control the visibility and behavior of each UI based on the applicability parameters. You can use the User Interface Setup task in the Setup and Maintenance work area to create and manage user interfaces for Oracle Order Management Cloud Order to Cash1.

The other answers are incorrect for the following reasons:

* By building this using different languages; for example, you can have the first hosting application to provide access by using American English and the second hosting application to provide access by using British English: This answer is incorrect because using different languages does not change the user interface design or functionality. It only changes the language of the labels and messages that are displayed to the user.

* By doing nothing. You cannot have more than one UI based on different applications that are accessing it. All users will have to use the more simplified method: This answer is incorrect because you can have more than one UI based on different applications that are accessing it. You can use the applicability parameters to specify the hosting application for each UI, and the order of precedence to determine which UI to display when there are multiple matches¹.

* By using Dynamic Tree Navigation and making the first question that users are prompted with to be related to the interface that they want to use: This answer is incorrect because Dynamic Tree Navigation is a feature that enables you to create a guided selling experience for configurable products. It does not allow you to create different user interfaces for different hosting applications².

* By building a Configurator rule that shows different options based on the application that is accessing:

This answer is incorrect because Configurator rules are used to define the logic and constraints for configurable products. They do not allow you to create different user interfaces for different hosting applications³.
