Oracle Cloud Fusion Analytics Warehouse 2023 Implementation Professional Sample Questions (Q48-Q53):

NEW QUESTION # 48

FAW allows you to define custom data security to meet complex requirements.

What steps would you take to override the default data security for specific users?

- A. You must create reports for your target users with filters that meet your security requirements.
- B. You need to create a custom data role and set up data filters that specify the values for specific dimensions.
- C. You need to create a custom duty role and set up data filters that specify the values for specific dimensions.

Answer: B

Explanation:

Explanation

The steps that you would take to override the default data security for specific users are to create a custom data role and set up data filters that specify the values for specific dimensions. A custom data role allows you to define custom data security filters and apply them to dimensions, facts, or subject areas. You can then assign the custom data role to the users who need to have different data access than the default<sup>2</sup>. You do not need to create a custom duty role or create reports with filters to override the default data security.

NEW QUESTION # 49

Which FAW system role/group is required to grant a user the privilege to manage data augmentation?

- A. Functional Administrator
- B. Modeler
- C. Security Administrator

Answer: B

Explanation:

Explanation

The FAW system role/group that is required to grant a user the privilege to manage data augmentation is Modeler. The Modeler role allows the user to create and manage data augmentations, as well as semantic model extensions, snapshots, and bundles<sup>1</sup>. The Functional Administrator role allows the user to manage functional areas, data pipelines, and data refreshes<sup>2</sup>. The Security Administrator role allows the user to manage users, groups, roles, and access<sup>3</sup>.

NEW QUESTION # 50

Data Augmentation provides two types of source tables for extraction from Fusion Applications: System Provided and Customer Provided.

What are the benefits of using System Provided source tables?

- A. Fusion Analytics Warehouse syncs data from System Provided tables in real time.
- B. You get complete access to all transaction tables.
- C. System Provided source tables are prevalidated by Oracle Fusion Analytics Warehouse. As part of that validation, Oracle helps ensure the success of processing and mitigates performance impact

Answer: C

Explanation:

Explanation

The benefit of using System Provided source tables for extraction from Fusion Applications is that they are prevalidated by Oracle Fusion Analytics Warehouse. As part of that validation, Oracle helps ensure the success of processing and mitigates performance impact<sup>7</sup>. System Provided source tables are a subset of Business Intelligence view objects that are available for Data Augmentation<sup>8</sup>. You do not get complete access to all transaction tables or real-time sync with System Provided source tables.

NEW QUESTION # 51

In the FAW Security framework, which mapping paradigm best describes the mapping of Security Content to Data Roles?

- A. Security Context to Data Role is many-to-many
- B. Security Context to Data Role is one-to-one
- C. Security Context to Data Role is one-to-many

Answer: A

Explanation:

Explanation

The FAW Security framework allows a flexible and extensible mapping of Security Content to Data Roles. A Security Content is a predefined attribute that defines the boundaries of data access for a given subject area, such as Business Unit, Country, Department, Job Family, Legal Entity, and Worker Type. A Data Role is a custom role that grants access to specific subsets of data in the data warehouse based on the Security Content.

A Security Content can be mapped to multiple Data Roles, and a Data Role can have multiple Security Content associated with it. For example, a Security Content of Country = US can be mapped to a Data Role of US HR Manager, and a Data Role of US HR Manager can have multiple Security Content such as Country = US, Business Unit = Sales, and Department = Marketing.

NEW QUESTION # 52

Your team has multiple developers, each dedicated to one functional area.

How would you create an environment for multi-user customization of the semantic model?

- A. Each developer has to create their own branch and perform all modifications inside the branch.
- B. Currently, there is no way to create a multi-user development environment.
- C. You have to use OAC tools, such as the data modeler, for this purpose.

Answer: A

Explanation:

Explanation

To create a multi-user development environment for customizing the semantic model, each developer has to create their own branch and perform all modifications inside the branch. The branches can be merged with the main branch after testing and validation<sup>6</sup>.

OAC tools are not required for this purpose.
