NEW QUESTION # 18

Assume you are the Test Manager for a new software release of an e-commerce application.

The server farm consists of six servers providing different capabilities. Each capability is provided through a set of web services.

The requirements specification document contains several SLAs (Service Level Agreements) like the following:

SLA-001: 99.5 percent of all transactions shall have a response time less than five seconds under a load of up-to 5000 concurrent users

The main objective is to assure that all the SLAs specified in the requirements specification document will be met before system release. You decide to apply a risk-based testing strategy and an early risk analysis confirms that performance is high risk. You can count on a well-written requirements specification and on a model of the system behavior under various load levels produced by the system architect.

Which of the following test activities would you expect to be the less important ones to achieve the test objectives in this scenario?

- A. Perform static performance testing by reviewing the architectural model of the system under various load levels
- B. Perform unit performance testing for each single web service
- C. Perform system performance testing, consisting of several performance testing sessions, to verify if all the SLAs have been met
- D. Monitor the SLAs after the system has been released into the production environment

- A. Storming Social
- B. Norming Personal
- C. Performing Methodological
- D. Forming Professional

Answer: A

Explanation:

* Understanding Team Development Phases:

* The Storming phase is where team members often experience conflicts as they establish their roles and relationships.

* Resolving conflicts in this phase is essential for team cohesion and productivity.

* Competencies Required:

* Social competencies are needed to mediate, facilitate communication, and encourage collaboration.

* Evaluation of Options:

* A. Forming Professional:

* Incorrect. The Forming phase involves team orientation, not conflict resolution.

* B. Storming Social:

* Correct. This phase requires social skills to address conflicts and foster a productive environment.

* C. Norming Personal:

* Incorrect. The Norming phase focuses on team cohesion and process standardization.

* D. Performing Methodological:

* Incorrect. The Performing phase assumes the team is high-functioning and requires minimal intervention.

* Syllabus Alignment:

* ISTQB emphasizes understanding team dynamics and applying social skills for effective team management during challenging phases (TM-3.1.5).
