CCE Global Counselor Preparation Comprehensive Examination (CPCE) Sample Questions (Q14-Q19):

NEW QUESTION # 14

Without the use of inferential statistics in test development, test users would not be able to

- A. assess behaviors in which respondents might engage.
- B. use sample statistics to approximate population statistics.
- C. effectively compare results from different samples.

Answer: B

Explanation:

Inferential statistics enable test users to generalize findings from a sample to a broader population. Without them, users would be limited to describing only the sample at hand and would be unable to make statistical inferences about the population from which the sample was drawn.

NEW QUESTION # 15

Which method of counseling assessment provides context for the interpretation of other assessment results and is considered the cornerstone of clinical assessment?

- A. the Global Assessment of Functioning
- B. the initial interview
- C. the Vanderbilt Assessment Scale

Answer: B

Explanation:

The initial interview is considered the cornerstone of clinical assessment. It provides essential context for understanding and interpreting the results of other assessment tools, allowing the counselor to gather background information, clarify presenting problems, and build rapport. "The initial interview forms the basis for case conceptualization and the integration of subsequent assessment data." Reference: Helwig, A. A. (2020). CPCE Study Guide and Review; Gladding, S. T. (2018). Counseling: A Comprehensive Profession (8th Edition).

NEW QUESTION # 16

Which of the following skills would enable a group leader to deal most effectively with group member behaviors of storytelling or gossiping?

- A. linking
- B. blocking
- C. reality testing

Answer: B

Explanation:

Blocking is the group leadership skill used to intervene when group members engage in unproductive behaviors, such as storytelling, gossiping, or monopolizing. The leader tactfully stops these behaviors to maintain group focus and safety. "Blocking is the deliberate intervention by the group leader to halt behaviors that are counterproductive or potentially harmful, including gossiping and storytelling." Reference: Helwig, A. A. (2020). CPCE Study Guide and Review; Corey, G. (2016). Theory and Practice of Group Counseling (9th Edition).

NEW QUESTION # 17

What is an example of advocating on behalf of the counseling profession?

- A. providing pro bono counseling services at a small organization
- B. practicing cultural competence when meeting with clients
- C. attending a state-level professional counseling conference

Answer: C

Explanation:

Attending a state-level professional counseling conference is an example of professional advocacy. Such participation allows counselors to stay informed about legislation, professional issues, and advancements in the field, and to contribute to the development of the profession. Professional advocacy also includes lobbying for the profession, involvement in professional organizations, and participating in policy-making that affects counselors and clients.

NEW QUESTION # 18

Which of the following most accurately defines what group counselors mean by the term clarifying?

- A. helping members sort through conflicting feelings
- B. encouraging clients to assess problems realistically
- C. offering plausible explanations for certain behaviors

Answer: A

Explanation:

In group counseling, clarifying involves helping members sort through and articulate their thoughts and conflicting feelings. This process assists members in gaining a clearer understanding of themselves and the issues they are facing, which supports more effective group work and personal growth. "Clarifying is used by counselors to assist clients or group members in sorting through confusion, particularly when they have conflicting feelings or thoughts." Reference: Helwig, A. A. (2020). CPCE Study Guide and Review; Corey, G. (2016). Theory and Practice of Group Counseling (9th Edition).
