CIPS L3M6 Exam Syllabus Topics:

Topic	Details
Topic 1	Understand Methods for the Storage and Movement of Inventory: This section assesses the expertise of Warehouse Managers in inventory storage and movement methods. It includes principles of warehouse design, focusing on location, layout factors such as flow and space utilization, and flexibility. It also explains various types of warehousing equipment like material handling systems, palletization techniques, packaging standards, and automation technologies that align with environmental standards.
Topic 2	Understand the Concepts of Sustainability and Corporate Social Responsibility (CSR): This section of the exam measures the knowledge of Procurement Specialists and covers the foundational concepts of sustainability and CSR. It explains how sustainability involves meeting present needs without compromising future generations' ability to do the same. The focus extends beyond traditional economic criteria, incorporating environmental and social impacts into procurement decisions. CSR emphasizes extending corporate goals to include social responsibility, promoting good citizenship, and encouraging positive impacts on stakeholders, including social, economic, and cultural diversity.

Topic 3	• Understand the Environmental Impact of Procurement and Supply: This section evaluates the skills of Supply Chain Analysts in understanding how procurement affects the environment. It explores global challenges such as balancing globalization with green logistics, public awareness, external pressures, and international regulations. The environmental impact of transportation and storage is covered, including air pollution, carbon footprint calculations, noise pollution, accidents, and land use. Additionally, it highlights the government's role in promoting sustainability through policies like greener transport modes, energy efficiency, and emission reduction.
Topic 4	• Understand the Environmental Impact of Warehousing and Distribution: This section targets Logistics Coordinators and examines how warehousing and distribution contribute to environmental challenges. Topics include air pollution, carbon footprint, noise pollution, accidents, land use, and visual intrusion. It also discusses the environmental costs associated with logistics activities such as greenhouse gas emissions and global warming and strategies to mitigate these impacts. The role of government policies in sustainable logistics is emphasized, including reducing freight intensity, improving utilization rates, promoting greener transport modes, enhancing energy efficiency, and cutting emissions.

CIPS Socially Responsible Warehousing and Distribution Sample Questions (Q112-Q117):

NEW QUESTION # 112

Avoiding environmental damage leads to increased costs, and using green energy sources reduces costs.

- A. FALSE
- B. TRUE

Answer: A

Explanation:

The statement is false. The CIPS L3M6 syllabus explains that avoiding environmental damage (e.g., through sustainable practices) may involve initial costs but often leads to long-term savings (e.g., via energy efficiency). Using green energy sources, like solar or wind, typically reduces operational costs over time by lowering reliance on expensive fossil fuels, contradicting the second part of the statement. CSR monitoring evaluates these trade-offs to balance cost and sustainability.

NEW QUESTION # 113

Which of the following are the main man-made sources of pollution?

- A. Greenhouse gas emissions from moving vehicles
- B. Toxic gases, such as sulphur dioxide and nitrogen oxide from industries
- C. Coal-powered plants and burning wood
- D. All the above

Answer: D

Explanation:

Major man-made pollution sources include:

* A. Coal Plants/Wood Burning: Emit CO₂, particulates, and sulphur dioxide, degrading air quality.

* B. Vehicle Emissions: CO₂ and nitrous oxides from transport contribute to greenhouse gases.

* C. Industrial Gases: Sulphur dioxide and nitrogen oxide from factories pollute air and water.

The CIPS L3M6 module identifies these as key contributors to environmental degradation, impacting supply chains (e.g., energy for warehousing, transport logistics). All are correct, reflecting LO2's broad pollution scope.

NEW QUESTION # 114

It is not the employer's responsibility to keep the work environment free from hazards and provide training and personal protective equipment to employees where appropriate.

- A. FALSE
- B. TRUE

Answer: A

Explanation:

It is the employer's legal duty (e.g., under UK HSWA 1974) to ensure a hazard-free workplace, provide training, and supply PPE. The CIPS L3M6 module ties this to LO2-environmental hazards (e.g., noise, vibrations) fall under employer responsibility, making the statement false.

NEW QUESTION # 115

In terms of packaging environmental standards, what does PPP stand for?

- A. Producer pays principle
- B. Polluter pays principle
- C. Producer pays profit
- D. Polluter pays profit

Answer: B

Explanation:

PPP stands for Polluter Pays Principle, which holds that those responsible for pollution (e.g., excessive packaging waste) bear the cost of managing it. The CIPS L3M6 syllabus links this to environmental accountability in warehousing, making it the correct answer.

NEW QUESTION # 116

The media always plays a negative role by issuing reports on and raising awareness of environmental matters.

- A. FALSE
- B. TRUE

Answer: A

Explanation:

The media's role in environmental awareness is not always negative; it can be positive or neutral. The CIPS L3M6 module explains that while it highlights failures (e.g., oil spills), it also promotes positive action-e.g., praising green innovations or pressuring policy change. For instance, coverage of a firm's solar-powered warehouse can inspire sustainability in supply chains. This dual role makes the statement false, aligning with LO2's view of media as a balanced influencer.
