Salesforce Certified Platform Administrator II Sample Questions (Q137-Q142):

NEW QUESTION # 137

The administrator at Cloud Kicks is evaluating the capabilities of Schema Builder to create custom objects and custom fields. The administrator likes the user interface of the Schema Builder, as opposed to the new object and field wizards, but also notices some limitations.

What needs to be configured from the object manager instead of Schema Builder?

- A. Enable field history tracking
- B. Allow Reports and Activities
- C. Make available for Customer Portal.
- D. Add custom fields to the page layout.

Answer: D

Explanation:

While the Schema Builder is a powerful tool in Salesforce for visually creating and managing custom objects and fields, there are certain configurations that must be done in Object Manager rather than Schema Builder.

One of these configurations is enabling field history tracking.

* Field History Tracking:

* Field history tracking cannot be configured directly within Schema Builder. This setting must be enabled from within the Object Manager, where administrators can specify which fields on an object should have their changes tracked.

* Enabling field history tracking involves navigating to the object in Object Manager, accessing the field history tracking settings, and selecting specific fields to track.

* Limitations of Schema Builder:

* Schema Builder is useful for quickly creating custom objects, relationships, and fields, but it does not support all configurations, such as enabling field history tracking, defining object-level permissions, or setting advanced object configurations.

* For these types of configurations, administrators need to return to Object Manager where these settings are available.

Incorrect options:

* Add custom fields to the page layout: This task is typically done within Object Manager, but Schema Builder does allow customization of page layouts to a certain extent through drag-and-drop.

* Make available for Customer Portal: Schema Builder does not control portal availability; however, this is managed through Object Manager settings related to record visibility for portal users.

* Allow Reports and Activities: This setting can be configured in Schema Builder when initially creating an object, but further refinements and permission settings must often be done in Object Manager.

In conclusion, enabling field history tracking requires access to the Object Manager, as it cannot be configured through Schema Builder.

Reference: According to Salesforce documentation, certain object and field configurations, such as field history tracking, are only accessible through Object Manager and not through Schema Builder

NEW QUESTION # 138

What are three options available to the administrator to help with this issue? Choose 3 answers

- A. Reduce the number of related lists displayed.
- B. Deactivate unnecessary validation rules.
- C. Convert all Process builders to flows.
- D. Remove some of the fields displayed.
- E. Move some page components behind a tab.

Answer: A,D,E

Explanation:

Move some page components behind a tab, remove some of the fields displayed, and reduce the number of related lists displayed are three options available to the administrator to help with this issue. Moving some page components behind a tab can help reduce the loading time of a record page by hiding some components until they are needed by the user. Removing some of the fields displayed can help reduce the loading time of a record page by minimizing the number of queries and calculations that need to be performed when rendering the page. Reducing the number of related lists displayed can help reduce the loading time of a record page by limiting the amount of data that needs to be retrieved and displayed on the page

NEW QUESTION # 139

Cloud Kicks has created a new flow that deletes records.
What should the administrator consider when testing the flow?

- A. Flow with delete elements need to be inactive to ensure that the test record is not actually deleted.
- B. Record deleted by Flow when debugging are hard deleted.
- C. Even if the flow is inactive, debugging the flow will delete the test record.
- D. Flows with delete elements cannot be debugged by the Flow debugged tool.

Answer: C

Explanation:

Debugging a flow allows administrators to test how a flow behaves before activating it or making changes to it. Debugging a flow runs it in real time using test data provided by the administrator or default values from the flow. However, debugging a flow also performs any actions defined in the flow, such as creating, updating, or deleting records. Therefore, if a flow has a delete element that deletes a record based on certain criteria, debugging the flow will delete the test record even if the flow is inactive. References:

NEW QUESTION # 140

Cloud Kicks maintains Inventory in a legacy application. Management wants the information to also be available to view and report on in Salesforce.

Which action should the administrator take to achieve this goal?

- A. Upload an Excel spreadsheet with the data into the Files tab.
- B. Import the data into a custom object when needed; delete after it is used.
- C. Create an external object that maps to the inventory application.
- D. Build a Lightning component and use SFDX to connect to the inventory app.

Answer: C

Explanation:

To make inventory data from a legacy application available in Salesforce, the administrator can create an external object that maps to the inventory application. An external object is similar to a custom object, except that it maps to data that's stored outside your Salesforce organization. External objects enable users to view and report on external data in Salesforce. References:

NEW QUESTION # 141

AW Computers has enabled the feature for Contact to multiple Accounts. A rep is trying to remove the primary Account from a Contact but is unable to do so. The administrator has already updated the page layout to no longer require an Account.

What could be the issue?

- A. The Account Contact relationship record needs to be deleted first in order to disassociate Contact from the Account.
- B. The Contact has Indirect relationships to other Accounts.
- C. A primary Account relationship is required on a Contact regardless of the page layout settings.
- D. Private Contacts need to be enabled in Setup.

Answer: C

Explanation:

When the feature for Contacts to multiple Accounts is enabled, a Contact can have a direct relationship with multiple Accounts. However, one of these relationships must be designated as the primary Account relationship. This relationship is required on a Contact regardless of the page layout settings and cannot be removed unless the Contact is deleted or merged with another Contact.
