NEW QUESTION # 170

Internal audit observed an increase in defects of newly installed spare parts. An investigation revealed that vendors delivered spare parts of worse quality than required by contract. Which of the following recommendations would most helpfully mitigate this risk?

- A. Request quality-related confirmations from vendors
- B. Conduct random inspections and testing of deliveries
- C. Add higher level managers to invoice approval process

- D. Improve technical specifications of procurement documents

Answer: B

Explanation:

The most effective way to mitigate the risk of poor-quality spare parts is through independent verification of deliveries, such as inspections and testing. This detects defects before acceptance and payment, reducing the likelihood of defective parts entering operations.

Option A adds approval steps but does not address product quality. Option B relies on vendor statements, which may be unreliable.

Option D strengthens contract language but does not ensure compliance at delivery.

NEW QUESTION # 174

The entity has a fixed assets balance of:

- A. US $58

- B. US $0
- C. US $16
- D. US $64

Answer: A

Explanation:

Total assets given as US $100 equals the sum of cash given as US $10), accounts receivable US $26), inventory, and fixed assets. Inventory can be determined because it is included in current, but not quick, assets, and the current and quick ratios are known. Current assets equal US $42 (1.4 current ratio x $30 current liabilities), and the quick assets equal US $36 (1.2 quick ratio = $30 current liabilities). Thus, inventory, which is the only difference in this question between current and quick assets, equals US $6 ($42 - $36). Fixed assets must then equal US $58 ($100 total assets - $10 cash - $26 accounts receivable - $6 inventory).

	A	B
Cash	US $100	US $200
Accounts receivable	unknown	100
Inventories	unknown	100
