- A. Scope management plan
- B. Business analysis communication plan
- C. Requirements management plan
- D. Project management plan

Answer: B

NEW QUESTION # 198

During requirements review, the implementation subject matter expert (SME) identified the requirement 'parsing of data' that must be implemented before other requirements. The business analyst (BA) has given this requirement high priority.

What factor influenced the prioritization of the requirement?

- A. Risk
- B. Constraint
- C. Dependencies
- D. Data Dictionary

Answer: C

Explanation:

Explanation

Dependencies are the relationships among requirements that indicate that one requirement is reliant on another requirement for its implementation, verification, or validation. Dependencies can influence the prioritization of requirements, as some requirements may need to be implemented before others to ensure the functionality, quality, or feasibility of the solution. In this case, the requirement 'parsing of data' must be implemented before other requirements, which means that it has a dependency relationship with them. Therefore, the BA has given this requirement a high priority to reflect its importance and urgency. NEW QUESTION # 201

In performing the task of planning for business analysis governance for a software implementation project, the business analyst (BA) recommends that prioritization of requirements be done based on the amount of work that the project team is capable of delivering in a given period of time.

Which of the following techniques is the BA recommending?

- A. Grouping
- B. Negotiation
- C. Budgeting
- D. Time Boxing

Answer: D

Explanation:

Time boxing or budgeting prioritizes business analysis information based on the allocation of a fixed resource.

It is frequently used when the solution approach has been determined. Time boxing is used to prioritize requirements based on the amount of work that the project team is capable of delivering in a set period of time.

Budgeting is used when the project team has been allocated a fixed amount of money. This approach is most often used when a fixed deadline must be met or for solutions that are enhanced on a regular and frequent basis.
